

Lee was led to write the book “For Such a Time as This,” Which he self-published July 2019. In the process Lee discovered he enjoys creating stories and characters for others to know and love. Lee’s books, whether fiction or not, come through inspiration.

After his second book, The Hallway of Expectation, Lee began writing Christian fiction novels and short stories. Though Lee has no formal writing training, his ferocious drive has fueled a refining of his style and knowledge. Lee hopes you will join him on this journey. Bringing experts into his projects insuring the highest quality possible.

“Life can be whatever you want, trust God and choose wisely... and never put yourself in a compromising situation.”

“Christian fiction adds joy and fun entertainment to our lives. I write my stories to share my faith in God with my characters overcoming difficult situations and circumstances. Often they share my faith directly, but most times the storyline isn’t as direct. My novels and short stories tend to be a mix of several genres, primarily action adventure, romance, and fantasy combined. Christian fiction is a perfect vehicle to reach everyone and there are so many great stories to read. I hope mine inspire others as much as I enjoyed writing them.”
